

Subject-Verb Agreement

The country is falling.

The people of the country are falling.

The courage of the people of the country is falling.

The plans to maintain the courage of the people of the country are falling.

This table is broken.

The cups on this table are broken.

The tray for the cups on this table is broken.

The handles of the tray for the cups on this table are broken.

One of the handles of the tray for the cups
on this table is broken.